Notes: Actual trade spread: In real trades, the spread will fluctuate with market conditions. The spreads above mentioned only apply to general conditions and shall be subject to the real-time spreads published on the trade platform. Day-trade forced liquidation rule: if the net value of the account is less than or equal to 20% of the initial margin, the forced liquidation will be triggered to sell the positions in the account at the market price, starting from the order with the highest loss, until such net value is higher than 20% of the initial margin.
